FARMING ON FAITH

Continuing dry weather at a time when moisture is vital to the seeding of another wheat crop has caused concern, not only to the farmer but to the nation as well. This concern is prompted by the need for more food, of which wheat is the most dependable and adaptable commodity. Obviously global relief cannot be continued unless there is another bumper wheat crop next year.

Farmers of the Southwest wheat empire have made preparations for a large acreage, preparations which have been stymied by lack of rain. Only immediate and copious rains in the Southwest can avert disaster to the nation's food economy.

Already it is being predicted the 1948 crop will be far below recent yields. This pessimism has not deterred land owners, who have gone ahead with seeding and will keep the drills in operation until the job is completed.

Whether the 1948 wheat crop will be a disappointment compared to those of recent years is in the laps of the gods. The law of averages is on the side of a small crop. But this prospect has not had the result of encouraging a sit-down strike by the farmers. They have seen dry weather before, many having gone through the dust bowl period undismayed.

The prospect of profit from large yields and high prices is pleasing, but the larger hope is for food for America. The wheat farmer has not lost faith in either his soil or his efforts.

In Egypt thousands have died in the last month, and the latest reported death rate from cholera there is more than 500 in 24 hours-a new high. Death may occur in a few hours after the toxic, convulsive symptoms start.

In this country health officer are already meeting Egyptian ships with decontamination apparatus, and cities whose sanitary setup leaves little to be desired have little to fear. But if Europe escapes this particular outbreak it will not be safe. As long as present abnormal conditions remain, there will be constant danger from a fresh epidemic.

We All Need Fun!

Nebody in Our Town is exactly asy (even though Pete Swanson's s claims he sleeps till seven A.M.). But the hardest working man of all is Doc Hollister -on call, morning, noon and night.

Funny thing, Doc's favorite prescription to his patients is: You ht to have fun. The pace of odern living, even on the farm, mands some relaxation.

onal thing. For the missus it may d, a mellow and refreshing glass

And as Doc says-fun is a pera movie or a good book; for of beer; and for the kids, parcheesi or the radio. Doesn't mean everybody has to like the same thingso long as they relax, have fun, together, in the home.

Doc doesn't have much time himself. After a hard day, he'll relax before the fire with a glass of beer -and wait for the phone to ring again. And from where I sit, Doc deserves each well-earned minute of that relaxation.
